Skin and genetics represent an exciting topic, because everything we are is based on a number, 46, respectively 44 chromosomes and XX or XY!

We are the final results between interaction of our genetic code and the environment, and in this wonderful world we don't know in this moment all the rules!

We are gathering information, stories, series of cases and we try to help the patients!

We have a lot of dates about implication of genes in our lives but we don't know why some people develop disease X and other people develop disease Y, but have the same genes!

Maybe, there will be a day when we can treat genetic diseases with a „magic scissor,, which will cut the genes with problems!

But, until then, in this issue of Romanian Journal of Clinical and Experimental Dermatology, we present some skin diseases associated with an important genetic factor!

And YES, 46 represents a magic number and we must have the willingness to decode the number!
